2Q 2016 Earnings Call

July 28, 2016

Comparison of adjusted information to U.S. GAAP information

This presentation includes adjusted financial measures that are derived from the Company's continuing operations. This non-GAAP information is provided in order to allow investors to make meaningful comparisons of the Company's operating performance between periods and to view the Company's business from the same perspective as Company management.

The Company's earnings release dated July 28, 2016 contains exhibits that reconcile the differences between the non-GAAP measures and comparable financial measures calculated in accordance with U.S. GAAP.
“Safe Harbor” statement under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995

The presentation contains “forward-looking statements,” as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements, which express management’s current views concerning future events, trends, contingencies or results, appear in various places in this report and use words like “anticipate,” “believe,” “continue,” “estimate,” “expect,” “forecast,” “future,” “intend,” “plan,” “potential,” “predict,” “project,” “strategy,” “target” and similar terms, and future or conditional tense verbs like “could,” “may,” “might,” “should,” “will” and “would.” Forward-looking statements are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in forward-looking statements include, among other things:

- the successful completion of the pending sale of J.D. Power to XIO Group;
- our ability to make acquisitions and dispositions and successfully integrate the businesses we acquire;
- our financial, political and regulatory conditions, including economic conditions and regulatory changes that may result from the United Kingdom’s likely exit from the European Union;
- the rapidity evolving regulatory environment, in the United States and abroad, affecting S&P Global Ratings, S&P Global Platts, S&P Dow Jones Indices, and S&P Global Market Intelligence, including new and amended regulations and the Company’s compliance therewith;
- the outcome of litigation, government and regulatory proceedings, investigations and inquiries;
- the success of our existing and new credit products and services, including credit-quality and spreads, the level of liquidity and future debt issuances;
- the demand and market for credit ratings in and across the sectors and geographies where the Company operates;
- concerns in the marketplace affecting the Company’s credibility or otherwise affecting market perceptions of the integrity or utility of independent credit ratings;
- the effect of competitive products and pricing, including the level of success of new product developments and global expansion;
- consolidation in the Company’s end-customer markets;
- the risk of changes in the markets and the level of liquidity in domestic and international capital, credit and equity markets, including credit-quality and spreads, the level of liquidity and future debt issuances;
- the impact on the Company’s revenue and net income caused by fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; and
- the Company’s ability to successfully recover should it experience a disaster or other business continuity problem from a hurricane, flood, earthquake, pandemic, security breach, cyber-attack, power loss, telecommunications failure or other natural or man-made event;

• the level of merger and acquisition activity in the United States and abroad;
• a decline in the demand for credit risk management tools by financial institutions;
• concerns in the marketplace affecting the Company’s credibility or otherwise affecting market perceptions of the integrity or utility of independent credit ratings;
• the effect of competitive products and pricing, including the level of success of new product developments and global expansion;

• the impact on the Company’s revenue and net income caused by fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; and
• the Company’s ability to successfully recover should it experience a disaster or other business continuity problem from a hurricane, flood, earthquake, pandemic, security breach, cyber-attack, power loss, telecommunications failure or other natural or man-made event;

• the demand for credit risk management tools by financial institutions;
• the level of merger and acquisition activity in the United States and abroad;
• the volatility of the energy marketplace;
• the health of the commodities markets;
• the impact of oil-cutting policies and reduced trading in oil and other commodities;
• our ability to incentivize and retain key employees;
• the Company’s ability to maintain adequate physical, technical and administrative safeguards to protect the security of confidential information and data, and the potential of a system or network disruption that results in regulatory penalties, remedial costs or improper disclosure of confidential information or data;
• the Company’s ability to successfully recover should it experience a disaster or other business continuity problem from a hurricane, flood, earthquake, pandemic, security breach, cyber-attack, power loss, telecommunications failure or other natural or man-made event;
• the ability of the Company's future cash flows and capital investments;
• the impact on the Company’s revenue and net income caused by fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; and
• the Company’s ability to successfully recover should it experience a disaster or other business continuity problem from a hurricane, flood, earthquake, pandemic, security breach, cyber-attack, power loss, telecommunications failure or other natural or man-made event;

Brexit – no immediate implications for Company

- The forthcoming British exit from the EU has no immediate implications for our European operations
- It is business as usual for S&P Global
- However, we do expect that because of the uncertainty it creates, Brexit could hamper issuance
- We will seek to work with the relevant UK and EU legal and regulatory authorities to navigate the path forward for our businesses
- Our views on Brexit’s impact on the markets can be found at: http://www.spratings.com/en_US/topic/-/render/topic-detail/brexit

* Organic revenue increased 8%.

2Q 2016 highlights:

- Continued solid organic revenue growth
- SNL integration continues to progress with numerous synergies realized
- The adjusted segment operating margin includes approximately 100 basis points of benefit from forex
- Excluding forex, adjusted segment operating profit margin was comparable to 1Q 2016

2Q synergy examples

Revenue-focused synergies:

- Reconfigured Risk Services Scorecard to include SNL bank data
- Integrated legacy Capital IQ equity ownership and earnings estimate data onto the SNL platform
- Integrating SNL sector-specific fundamentals onto Xpressfeed. In beta testing now, with SNL content available this fall
- Completed design work for consolidated product platform

Cost-focused synergies:

- Reduced costs by replacing third-party data with internal solutions
- Completed office consolidations in Denver, NYC, and Singapore
- Meaningful progress toward having all S&P Global Market Intelligence employees on common workflow tools
S&P Global Market Intelligence user growth drives improved revenue

- Both S&P Capital IQ Desktop and Enterprise Solutions delivered high single-digit growth
- Energy and Media verticals delivered the highest SNL growth rates

- RatingsXpress® had double-digit growth
- RatingsDirect® delivered mid single-digit growth
- Decrease due to declines in Equity Research

2Q 2016 highlights:

- Revenue growth was due to steady data license growth and strength in exchange-traded derivative activity due to market volatility
- ETF related revenue was up slightly
S&P Dow Jones Indices: Record quarter ending ETF AUM

Transaction (Exchange-Traded Derivatives):
• Revenue growth was primarily due to a 24% increase in average daily volume of products based on S&P DJI’s indices
• E-mini S&P 500 futures, CBOE Volatility Index options and futures (VIX), and CME equity complex contracts all increased more than 20%

Asset-Linked Fees (Exchange-Traded Funds):
• Exchange-traded products industry recorded inflows of $46 billion in 2Q
• Average AUM associated with our indices increased 3% year-over-year with inflows of 7% offset by net asset value declines of 4%
• Quarter ending ETF AUM associated with our indices reached a new record of $855 billion

Subscription (Data and Custom): Continued steady growth in data subscription revenue

S&P Dow Jones Indices continues to expand—adding two ESG indices

• JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index — Designed to measure performance of Japanese companies that are proactively and effectively making investment in physical and human capital

• S&P ESG Index Series — Designed to measure the performance of companies in its respective underlying index with a weighting scheme based on an ESG Factor Score, derived from RobecoSAM’s annual Corporate Sustainability Assessment

* Organic growth was 4%, excluding revenue from NADA Used Car Guide, Petromedia, and RigData acquisitions

2Q 2016 highlights:

- Platts' 7% revenue growth was driven by strength in subscriptions and Global Trading Services
- Excluding revenue from NADA Used Car Guide, J.D. Power revenue declined slightly due to lower consulting revenue in China
- The close of the sale of J.D. Power for $1.1 billion continues to be anticipated in the third quarter

S&P Global
Platts: Global Trading Services led growth during the quarter

- Global Trading Services’ double-digit revenue increase was primarily due to the timing of license fees and strong license revenue from the Singapore and ICE exchanges
- The core subscription business delivered mid-single digit revenue growth led by the Petroleum sector, with particular strength in Asia
- Metals, Agriculture & Petrochemicals (MAPS) revenue grew high single-digit primarily due to strength in SGX-listed TSI Iron Ore contracts and metals market data subscriptions
- We continue to expect growth to moderate slightly in the remainder of 2016 as many customers face pressure from low oil prices
- The CME Group introduced a new Aluminum A380 alloy futures contract that settles against one of our price assessments

S&P Global

S&P Global Platts expands product offerings

Acquired RigData in June:
- RigData is a leading provider of daily information on rig activity for the natural gas and oil markets across North America
- Extends our energy analytical capabilities

Launched Japanese domestic oil product assessments:
- 5 new gasoline, kerosene, and fuel oil assessments
- Assessments will follow Platts Market-on-Close principles

Launched LNG U.S. Gulf Coast Marker:
- Supports growing exports of liquefied natural gas
- Reflects the daily export value of LNG traded free-on-board (FOB) from the U.S. Gulf Coast
Summary

• All segments delivered revenue growth
• Bond issuance recovered from a weak start to the year
• We continue to focus on margin improvement
• Integration of SNL remains a top priority for the Company
• We expect Brexit to have no immediate implications for the Company
• Our adjusted diluted EPS guidance is increased to a range of $5.05 to $5.20 and our guidance now includes dilution from the pending sale of J.D. Power

Jack Callahan returns to Yale

• Jack helped engineer the transformation to S&P Global, a faster growing, more focused and profitable company
• We thank Jack for his many contributions
• He begins his new role as Yale’s Senior Vice President for Operations in August
• Rob MacKay, Senior Vice President, Corporate Controller has been named Interim CFO as we continue the search process
