Comparison of Adjusted Information to U.S. GAAP Information

This presentation includes adjusted revenue, free cash flow and net cash information. This information is provided to enable investors to make meaningful comparisons of the Company’s operating performance between periods and to view the Company’s business from the same perspective as management’s.

The earnings release dated April 26, 2011 contains exhibits that reconcile the differences between the non-GAAP measures and comparable financial measures calculated in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

This presentation contains forward-looking statements, including without limitation statements relating to our businesses and our prospects, new products, sales, expenses, tax rates, cash flows, prepublication investments and operating and capital requirements that are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements are intended to provide management’s current expectations or plans for our future operating and financial performance and are based on assumptions management believes are reasonable at the time they are made. Forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as “believe,” “expect,” “plan,” “estimate,” “project,” “target,” “anticipate,” “intend,” “may,” “will,” “continue” and other words of similar meaning in connection with a discussion of future operating or financial performance. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict; therefore, actual outcomes and results could differ materially from what is expected or forecasted. These risks and uncertainties include, among others: worldwide economic, financial, political and regulatory conditions; currency and foreign exchange volatility; the effect of competitive products and pricing; the level of success of new product development and global expansion; the level of future cash flows; the levels of capital and prepublication investments; income tax rates; restructuring charges; the health of debt and equity markets, including credit quality and spreads, the level of liquidity and future debt issuances; the level of interest rates and the strength of the capital markets in the U.S. and abroad; the demand and market for debt ratings, including collateralized debt obligations (CDOs), residential and commercial mortgage and asset-backed securities and related asset classes; the state of the credit markets and their impact on S&P and the economy in general; the regulatory environment affecting S&P; the level of merger and acquisition activity in the U.S. and abroad; the level of funding in the education market; School Education Group’s level of success in adoptions and open territories; enrollment and demographic trends; the strength of School Education Group’s testing market, Higher Education, Professional and International Group’s publishing markets and the impact of technology on them; continued investment by the construction, automotive, computer and aviation industries; the strength of the domestic and international advertising markets; the level of political advertising; the strength and performance of the domestic and international automotive markets; the volatility of the energy marketplace; and the contract value of public works, manufacturing and single-family unit construction. We caution readers not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.

• S&P’s operating profit expected to accelerate for the rest of 2011; implies 10% growth over the balance of the year
  – Year-over-year cost comparisons easing
  – Favorable market trends expected to continue
How foreign exchange affected 1Q results

Increased revenue by $1.9 million
Reduced operating profit by $6.1 million

Excluding foreign exchange:
• Revenue grew by 9.9%
• Operating profit increased by 4.1%

Challenging comparisons:
1Q ’10 vs. 1Q ‘11

1Q ’10 margin: 47%
1Q ’11 margin: 43%

Record 1Q ’10 margin achieved despite S&P’s lowest revenue quarter in 2010
• $42 million lower than 1Q 2011
Why expense comparisons will ease for balance of 2011

S&P spending for QCCR-related items makes first-half comparisons challenging:
• 2010: Incremental $17 million cost realized almost entirely in second half of the year
• 2011: Estimated incremental increase of $12 million to $15 million to be more evenly spread across the year

QCCR costs expected to increase at lower rate, level off, and possibly decline as new regulatory requirements subside

New hires, acquisition contribute to difficult expense comparisons in 1Q

Staffing increases mostly at CRISIL in India
• Includes acquisition of Pipal Research in late 2010

Risk and the search for yield

S&P has seen:
• Deals oversubscribed for companies with B-ratings
• CCC rated debt market opened up by increased role of hedge funds

Why search for yield will persist:
• Interest rates remain low
• Spreads remain tight

Tightening interest rate spreads:
A key factor in issuance levels

Spreads well below 5-year daily moving average

Trends in new issuance market

Increasingly active M&A market should contribute to growth

Borrowers turning to public debt markets with banks less willing or less able to lend

S&P continues to move ahead without much help from the public or structured finance markets

U.S. public finance fell by 52% in 1Q 2011

- Decline is largely attributed to expiration of Build America Bond program at end of 2010
- May take some time for market to show year-over-year growth

Non-transaction revenue includes a $15.2 million royalty payment from McGraw-Hill Financial for right to use and distribute S&P’s content.

S&P’s non-transaction revenue expected to continue growing in 2011.

Offsets to decline in structured finance surveillance:
- Increased revenue from CRISIL
- Revenue from non-issue based analytical services
Gaining clarity on regulatory issues

United States: SEC will engage in more rulemaking in 2011 to implement Dodd-Frank Act requirements

Hong Kong recently passed new regulations

New regulations expected from Canada and Singapore

Gaining clarity on regulatory issues

S&P is working with regulators and market participants on implementation of new rules for credit ratings in the European Union relating to endorsement

S&P has an effective framework to accommodate compliance with additional regulatory requirements
Latest developments on litigation front

The record:

- 20 cases have been dismissed outright
  - Five of these cases involved fraud charges
- Eight lawsuits have been voluntarily withdrawn

Favorable decision in California state court

CALPERS case in California alleged negligent misrepresentation in connection with the ratings of three structured investment vehicles

- Court granted our motion that the complaint falls under a California statute protecting speech made in the public interest
- Decision shifts burden to CALPERS; must demonstrate with a probability of success that it can prove its claim
Latest developments on litigation front

Abu Dhabi case: Discovery continues

Anschutz case:
• New York federal court dismissed plaintiff’s claim of negligent misrepresentation in regard to securities issued by Merrill Lynch
• Same claim in California federal court has survived a motion to dismiss
• California judge asked to permit an appeal in view of clear conflict with New York’ federal court’s dismissal ruling

Developments on cases overseas

Parmalat: Submitted our final brief; Ruling awaited

Germany: Court dismissed another lawsuit relating to S&P’s Lehman ratings
• Recognized that ratings disseminated globally from our U.S. business should not subject S&P to lawsuits in Germany without some specific connection to that country
2011 outlook for Standard & Poor’s

Summary
- Legal risk remains low
- Regulatory issues are manageable
- High single-digit revenue growth
- Operating profit will accelerate for the balance of the year and grow in the high single-digits for the full year

- Operating loss reflects revenue decline and ramped up investment for digital infrastructure that will position McGraw-Hill Education for future growth.

McGraw-Hill Education: 1Q results not indicative of what’s ahead for 2011

Elementary-high school market:
- 1Q sales mainly for replacement copies

U.S. higher education market
- Sales mainly reflect last year’s adoptions

In both markets, 1Q through mid-May is the major selling season for summer orders
- Sales force working hard to ensure success of seasonally important 3Q
What’s different in 1Q: Robust growth of digital products

1Q: Particularly strong digital growth in higher education and professional markets

Investment in digital capabilities and capacity builds on McGraw-Hill Education’s success

• Positions us to meet growing demand for digitally delivered products
• Supports launch of broad array of new digital products in the pipeline
• Reflects the markets’ increasing capacity to utilize wholly digital products delivered online

Technology investments: Opportunities for 2011 and beyond

McGraw-Hill Education’s products represent a new generation of digital resources to enhance teaching and learning

• The el-hi market: Only publisher to offer comprehensive, all-digital programs in math and science
  – CINCH Math and CINCH Science

• Testing market: Shift to online testing and all-digital reporting is a growing trend
McGraw-Hill Education’s new generation of digital resources

Higher education’s suite of products include:
- McGraw-Hill Connect: The industry’s most-advanced homework management platform
- McGraw-Hill Create: A digital system that allows instructors to customize e-books for their courses
- LearnSmart and ALEKS: Highly sophisticated computer adaptive tutoring programs
- Frontlist titles: Available as e-books for a range of e-reading devices

Professional market:

Steady increases in domestic and international subscribers for medicine, engineering and business resources
- More than 6,000 professional titles available as e-books
- Introducing line of enhanced e-books featuring embedded audio and video
- More than 150 apps for business, medical, technical, and educational test prep
  - Another 75 apps will be added this year
Investing in technology systems to ensure capacity, support

Recent investments in state-of-the-art digital hosting and support center are paying off with increased digital product reliability

Will continue to make incremental investments and utilize the cloud to ensure capacity and expert customer support

Outlook for 2011 U.S. education market

Expect digital products and services to produce another solid year of growth

2Q selling season is underway. Monitoring:
• District adoption activity levels
• State funding developments
• Buying patterns across our markets
Outlook for 2011 U.S. education market

The el-hi market is stabilizing

Market could still meet or exceed 2010 levels
- Depends to great extent on Texas legislature and how it funds instructional materials
  - Won’t know until sometime in May
- Carefully watching North Carolina’s reading and literature adoption
  - Recently called for purchase this year but funding has not been approved
- Open territory: Signs of pent up demand but too soon to make a forecast

Outlook for 2011 U.S. education market

Still believe U.S. college market will grow between 4% and 6%

Enrollments expected to show modest growth after surge in the last two years

Realizing the benefits of Blackboard connection in 2011
- Hard to overstate value of offering students and instructors a single point of access for course content and study tools through Blackboard’s learning management system
- Expanded arrangement with Blackboard to international markets earlier in April
2011 outlook for McGraw-Hill Education

Market expectations:
• Flat to minimal growth in elementary-high school market
• 4% to 6% growth in U.S. higher education market

For McGraw-Hill Education:
• Revenue: Expect growth in low single-digits
• Operating profit: A decline driven by investments, especially for digital developments
  – Decrease could range from mid single-digits to high single-digits

2011 outlook for The McGraw-Hill Companies

Solid start to year
• 1Q is seasonally small

2011 EPS guidance: Expect earnings per diluted share in the $2.79 to $2.89 range

Jack Callahan
Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer
The McGraw-Hill Companies
2011: Expect another year of strong cash flow

Before dividends:
• Expect to generate cash flow greater than $1 billion

After dividends:
• Projected to be in excess of $700 million despite increased capital investments

The outlook for prepublication investments

2011: Continue to expect roughly $200 million to $225 million
• Represents $50 million to $75 million increase compared to 2010, an unusually low year
The outlook for capital expenditures

2011: Expect approximately $150 million
- Driven in part by increased digital and technology investments
- Compares to $115 million in 2010

A well-capitalized company

Net cash and short-term investments:
- As of March 31, 2011: $100 million

Cash and short-term investments: $1.3 billion

Gross debt: Approximately $1.2 billion
- Comprised of long-term unsecured senior notes
- No commercial paper outstanding
Capital allocation in 1Q 2011

Spent $250 million on acquisitions and share repurchases
- Primary drivers of $250 million decline in cash and short-term investments from year-end

$126 million on acquisitions
- Most notable: BENTEK Energy which is now part of Platts in the Information & Media segment

Impact of recent acquisitions on 1Q results:
- Revenue: Accelerated growth by approximately 150 basis points
- Profit: Modestly dilutive

Capital allocation in 1Q 2011: Share repurchase program

1Q 2011: Repurchased 3.3 million shares for approximately $124 million
- Average price: $37.44 per share

Considering step up in 2011 share repurchases versus initial guidance due to:
- Cash position
- Reduced cash commitment for OPIS acquisition that has been withdrawn

5.1 million shares remain in the current 2007 program authorized by the Board of Directors
- To further increase buy backs, a new program would need consideration and formal authorization by Board of Directors
Outlook for corporate expenses

1Q 2011: $34 million, a decrease of 4% or $1.5 million compared to the prior year
• Benefited from a decline in real estate costs and tight cost control

2011: Expect mid single-digit increase
• Compares to adjusted corporate expense of $164 million in 2010, which excludes one-time charge of $15.6 million related to subleasing excess space

Outlook for net interest expense

1Q 2011: $19 million, a $3 million decline compared to the prior year

2011: Still expect full year interest to be comparable to 2010, which was $82 million
Effective tax rate

1Q 2011: 36.4%, flat versus 2010

Net income attributable to non-controlling interests

1Q 2011: $4.2 million, largely driven by CRISIL
A decline in diluted weighted average shares outstanding (WASO)

1Q 2011: 309.6 million shares
• 6.7 million decrease from prior year
• 0.7 million decrease from 4Q 2010

Decline is primarily due to share repurchases, which more than offset equity related awards
