Growth and Value Plan Update
Investor Relations Presentation

December 7, 2011
Forward-Looking Statements

The forward-looking statements in this Growth and Value Plan (identified by the future tense and words like “expects,” “targeted” and “projected”) involve risks and uncertainties, are subject to change, and actual results may differ materially from the Corporation’s expectations, based on various important factors, including worldwide economic, financial, liquidity, political and regulatory conditions; the health of debt (including U.S. residential mortgage-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations), equity and commodities markets, including possible future interest rate changes; the health of the economy and in advertising; the level of expenditures and state new adoptions and open territory sales in the education market; the successful marketing of competitive products; and the effect of competitive products and pricing. Additional factors that could cause results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements can be found in The McGraw-Hill Companies 2010 Annual Report on Form 10-K which, along with the Corporation’s other filings with the SEC, are available on the SEC’s website (www.sec.gov).

Cost savings & share repurchase update

Cost Savings

- The McGraw-Hill Companies has taken substantial actions to achieve cost reductions of approximately $50 million in annualized savings, making the Corporation highly confident that it will exceed its initial target of $100 million.

- McGraw-Hill Education announced today a workforce reduction of approximately 10% (~550 positions) to create a flatter and more agile organization.

- The McGraw-Hill Companies will freeze its defined benefit pension program as of April 1, 2012, in order to focus its retirement program on market-competitive offerings.

- Future restructuring updates will be provided in 2012, as the separation process moves forward.

Share Repurchase

- The Corporation has completed its existing $1 billion share repurchase plan as part of its capital return program.
  - The Corporation bought back 24.7 million shares in 2011 for $1 billion, at an average price of $40.48 per share.

- The Corporation has entered into a new $500 million accelerated share repurchase (ASR) transaction and will receive delivery of a substantial majority of shares underlying the transaction by year end.

- Adjusted for the estimated full impact of the ASR, approximately 23 million shares remain under the existing authorization.

Four key trends are increasing the need for content and analytics in financial markets

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Trend</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Customer Needs For Content and Analytics</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Globalization of capital markets | - Global demand for capital and commodities markets trading and liquidity
- Increased demand for capital in emerging markets as they fund growth projects
- Mature market economies will need to be increasingly funded by the capital markets | • Expanded coverage of asset classes and local content |
| Data-driven decision making | - Developments in technology, communications and data processing power
- Time-critical investment decisions
- Increased demand for multi-asset class investments | • Better management of volatility and risk |
| Systemic Regulatory Change | - New legislation (e.g. Dodd-Frank, CFTC, Basel III, Solvency II) causing banks to access public markets for deleveraging
- Evolving industry structure (e.g. SEFs; OTC to exchanges; SMEs; electronic trading platforms) | • Capital efficiency and returns |
| Increased volatility and risk focus | - Amplified uncertainty and market volatility around short term events
- Increased need for new methodologies to measure risk, return and liquidity | • Workflow solutions to enhance productivity and reduce cost |
The demand for content and analytics outpaces the growth of GDP and the underlying industries

- S&P Indices and Platts jointly negotiated new contracts with CME Group that align economic incentives and encourage new product development
- S&P Indices has created tradable products based on S&P Credit Ratings
Summary

• McGraw-Hill Financial will be a focused operating company and be reported in five business lines: Standard & Poor’s Ratings Services, S&P Capital IQ, S&P Indices, Platts and Commercial Markets

• This structure will enable the company to build on its specialized market knowledge and create integrated solutions to meet emerging customer needs

• The Corporation believes McGraw-Hill Financial’s combined businesses have the potential for double-digit growth, strong cash flow and robust profit margins in excess of 30%

• This growth is expected to come from McGraw-Hill Financial’s unique ability to capitalize on increased demand for high-value content and analytics in three ways:
  − The high performance of its underlying brands
  − Its ability to combine its capabilities into integrated solutions
  − The deployment of the company’s cash flow into targeted acquisitions and alliances
I. Progress on The McGraw-Hill Companies’ Growth and Value Plan

II. McGraw-Hill Financial

III. McGraw-Hill Education
McGraw-Hill Education is creating a flatter, more nimble company to drive margin expansion and invest in attractive growth opportunities

- A workforce reduction of approximately 10% (~550 positions)
  - Executive ranks reduced by approximately 20%
  - Workforce reductions are expected to be substantially completed by the end of the 4th quarter of 2011, with some actions expected to close in 1st half of 2012

- Continue flattening organizational structures – decentralize decision-making, empower leaders, reinforce accountability, reward innovation

- Evolve further towards digital first – redesign product development and redeploy resources; drive technology leverage across McGraw-Hill Education

- Invest further in adaptive, one-on-one, customized products and learning solutions that improve student and instructor outcomes – position McGraw-Hill Education as their preferred partner

- Grow Education Services – add new capabilities to international operations in order to offer critical college and career readiness solutions at the institution, company and country level
McGraw-Hill Education is evolving its business to capitalize on the rapidly changing education market

McGraw-Hill Education is changing by…

- …embracing more agile product development
- …moving decisions closer to customers
- …leading the charge with adaptive learning
- …focusing more tightly on generating lasting value for customers
These trends demonstrate attractive growth prospects for educational service providers – a space McGraw-Hill Education is targeting.
